GLENDALE, CALIFORNIA, TUESDAY, JANUARY 30, 1923

THREE CENTS

$1,250 RAISED AT GLENDALE COMMUNITY FUND DINNER BY CITY ORGANIZATIONS

Exchange, Rotary and Kiwanis Clubs Are the Hosts of the Evening at the Chamber of Commerce Auditorium

AMOUNT RECEIVED IS HALF THAT REQUIRED

Program of Music Is Followed by Invocation, and Address by E. B. DeGroot of Los Angeles on the Meaning of Service to Community

The Glendale Community Service budget fund has been increased by $1250 as a result of the $25 dinner held Monday night at 6:30 o'clock in the chamber of commerce auditorium, plans for which were in charge of committees from the three luncheon clubs of Glendale, Exchange, Rotary and Kiwanis. This amount is just half of that necessary to complete the financing of the Community Service budget for a program of activities for Glendale this year.

The program opened with the community singing of

CREDIT MEN CONSIDER A PAGEANT

Committee Makes Favorable Report on the Possibility of the Affair

Talk about the proposed Pageant of Progress and about the desirability of a civic center on the present site of the Glendale Sanitarium, a warning about bad check artists on their way from the east to the Pacific coast, and a recommendation that inquiries concerning persons who have asked for credit be referred to the Glendale office of the Credit Association, constituted the program at the meeting of the Credit Association held Monday noon at the Glen Inn.

The committee appointed to investigate the possibilities of the pageant of progress or industrial exposition, submitted a favorable report expressing the belief it would be a good advertising proposition, but action by the association was deferred for one week.

The report was presented by C. J. Hatz, of the Credit Association, and W. L. Twining, chairman of the advertising committee of the chamber of commerce.

A communication from the civics committee of the Exchange club was read urging the advantages of a civic center for Glendale and the Glendale Sanitarium property as a site. There was some discussion of the matter but inasmuch as no definite proposition was submitted, no action was taken.

Secretary Pilling presented a communication just received which read as follows:

"I have just had a 'flash' from eastern connections that many 'bad check artists' are headed this way, both women and men: Mrs. J. Carey from Texas, Alta Clark from Lincoln, Neb., F. J. Gruenthal, New Orleans; R. L. Hill, Cleveland, O.; David Richmond, Washington, D. C.; S. G. Williams (a coon), Houston, Tex. Be on your guard and cash no checks presented by the above named."

Mr. Pilling suggested that when members receive inquiries concerning Glendale customers who have asked for credit elsewhere, that such inquiries be referred to the Glendale office of the association. It was a pleasure to members to be told that D. H. Smith, banker, who has been quite ill, is recuperating and is now able to sit up.

BRAND LIGHTING DISCUSSION SET FOR THURSDAY

The hearing on the Brand boulevard lighting question will come up before the Glendale city council Thursday night.

The city is levying an assessment on the property owners on Brand for electricity for the lights on that thoroughfare. The property owners are protesting.

The matter will be threshed out Thursday night.

INCOME TAX MAN IS DUE IN CITY ON FEBRUARY 23

Get ready for the income tax man. A deputy collector from the office of Rex B. Goodcell, collector of internal revenue, Sixth district of California, will be in Glendale on February 23, 24, 26, 27, 28 and March 10, 12, 13, 14 and 15, at the city hall, to receive income tax returns for the year 1922 and to assist in their preparation.

It will facilitate matters if taxpayers will have their returns filled out so that they may be checked and acknowledged without unnecessary delay. The deputy will be glad to assist the taxpayer and interpret any part of the regulations that are not thoroughly understood. Taxpayers are urged to "come as early as possible" and bring with them the forms they received by mail.

Any taxpayer in doubt as to his liability for filing a return should consult the deputy, as liability for filing a return may exist even though there is no tax to pay.

No fee is required to be paid to the deputy collector for his services to the taxpayer, and Collector Goodcell advises taxpayers to avail themselves of this service.

Legion Team Wins From H. S. Faculty

In a fast and snappy game the Legion quintet defeated the high school faculty team, annexing the heavy end of the 32 to 29 score. The Legionaires had it about all their own way the first half when the tally stood at 24 to 13. In the second fifty per cent the faculty crew stiffened their game with some changes that were made in the Legion line-up began to score more consistently.

The Legion boys began to show signs of wear in the second half, Wheelon and Dik leading some little anxiety by being forced to take time out after a couple of stiff mixups which did not, however, seem to phase them materially.

Baskets—Legion: Wheelon, 7; Hayward, 3; Austin, 2; Keller, 2; Dayland, 1. Two free throws. Faculty: Butterfield, 5; Wilson, 3; Hayhurst, 3; Wolf, 2; 3 free throws.

Referee—Coats.

Time-keeper—Wix.

POST TEAM TO PLAY PASADENA

The members of the Glendale American Legion basketball team are looking forward to a merry contest with the members of the Pasadena American Legion post team on Wednesday night. The game will be played in the gymnasium of Glendale Union high school.

A real game is promised and the local team members are urging that there be a large number of rooters out for the Glendale post.

ELEVEN NEW ELKS JOIN LODGE

The initiation of eleven members into the Benevolent and Protective Order of Elks No. 1289 of Glendale was the principal feature of the business session held last night at the club house on Colorado street with Arthur Dibern, exalted ruler, and other regular officers in charge. The new members are: R. T. Riley, Edward Holland, A. H. Moroscow, Leslie E. Warren, Charles E. Carter, John L. Price, A. R. Baker, James E. Barnes, Dick Michel, Bongie B. Smith and William F. Rudolph. This brings the total active membership of the Glendale lodge up to about 1640.

Following the business meeting an interesting program was given by John Fisher Anderson, who talked on "Seeing Hawaii on American Pluck." He also showed about 3,000 feet of moving picture film taken on the island, and this included some very wonderful views of the volcano.

Among the social events planned by the Glendale lodge is a dance to be given on February 24 for the benefit of the Elks band. This will be accompanied by the Elks and also their friends.

Past exalted rulers' night will be observed at the next regular lodge meeting on February 5. A dispensation has been secured for the elimination of the regular meeting of the local lodge on February 12, when the officers and members will go to Monterey to put on the initiatory work there. Among other activities planned will be that of the meeting of February 26, when the officers of Santa Monica lodge will put on the initiatory work. They are planning to bring their band up with them and undoubtedly will be accompanied by a large number of members from the beach city.

The meeting last night was attended by about 300 members and after the program lunch was served.

FIRE WITHIN IS RIMMER'S FIRST TEXT

Tells Story of Indian's First Experience With Electric Wire

DRAWS GOOD LESSON

Evening Talk Is on "The Invisible Sovereign," Demonstrated

Harry Rimmer, who is Glendale's guest this week under the auspices of the Y. M. C. A., had a full day Monday and will be even busier today. At noon he gave a snappy talk to the boys of Glendale High which included many jokes and stories of his experiences in the northwest among the lumber jacks. While there he met the Modoc Indian, Charley, who accompanied him to San Francisco. As it was his first absence from the reservation he saw many things which were to him unsolvable mysteries. One was electricity as applied to light and power in propelling cars. Turning the lights off and on in his wonderment he sought an explanation from Mr. Rimmer, who, somewhat at a loss, bade the Indian wait his finger and then put it in the electric light socket. The Indian, of course, received a shock which he interpreted as "a fire within."

This "fire within" served as the text of Mr. Rimmer's talk in which he showed that without a consuming ambition or a fire within no great place in the world was ever secured. The experience of Andrew Carnegie, who borrowed the money to carry him to America, was cited and of others equally noted, but he warned the boys that an entirely selfish life would consume itself, that the man who concentrates on his own private business alone will have a barren life when he undertakes to drop business cares because he will have no resources to take its place.

His evening talk was on "The Invisible Sovereign," in which he demonstrated in a variety of ways how possible it is to believe in the things we have not seen. "We believe in Abraham Lincoln though we have not seen him," he declared, "and the doughboys on the plains of France believed in the bullets they did not see. In the same way we can love one whom we have not seen because of what he means to us, or we can in our love for country rise to heights of patriotism which make us willing to give our lives for her." All this was an introduction to his argument that it is possible to love God though we have not seen Him.

In the absence of Harry Marple, who was ill, Everett Anderson had charge of the musical program, which included a vocal solo by Fanny Marple Retts, "He's Waiting Outside the Door," and a cornet solo, "Evening Star" from Tannhauser (Wagner) by Ivan Dow.

This evening Mrs. Floyd Mercer will sing a gospel hymn, and numbers will be contributed by a quartet from the colored Y. M. C. A. of Los Angeles.

Mr. Rimmer will not give a talk to the girls of Glendale High but instead will speak to pupils in the Wilson Avenue Intermediate early in the afternoon, and will hold a brief service at the Christian church for high school students at 4 o'clock.

MAPS FOR THE BOND ELECTION TO COME TODAY

The office of the county surveyor has agreed to have maps and descriptions of the Glendale city school district ready today for the use of the county council in preparing petitions for the re-annexation to Glendale for school purposes of certain territory not included within the corporate limits of the city. This territory is in the northwest, in Casa Verdugo and in Sycamore Canyon.

Members of the Casa Verdugo Improvement Association and of the Central Avenue P. T. A. have agreed to circulate petitions in that district. It is probable the same will be done in the territory by members of the Grand View P. T. A. and of the Broadway P. T. A.

It is considered probable that the school bond election will be called for a date close to the first day of March.

LEAVE FOR SAN JOAQUIN

A. W. Reynolds, J. R. Detwiler and John R. Mercer left this morning for San Joaquin valley, where they will spend several days looking over farm land and farming conditions in general.

COUNCIL FOLLOWS THE PRESS

Dog and Cat Ordinance Is Drafted on Dr. Kaemmerling's Suggestion

MUST VACCINATE

Complete Registration of Animals Planned With Proper Care at Pound

A dog and cat ordinance, drafted along the lines suggested in the editorial which appeared in the Glendale Daily Press of Saturday, January 27 which will, if passed, compel every owner of a dog or cat in Glendale to have his or her pet vaccinated with anti-rabic serum, was introduced at the meeting of the Glendale city council Monday night. This ordinance will, if enacted, compel the owner to file with the city clerk a certificate describing such dog or cat and naming such peculiarities as may reasonably be practical in order that the same may be identified, and stating that the dog or cat has been successfully vaccinated with anti-rabic serum.

Wherever a dog is either born in Glendale or brought into this city from outside points it must be vaccinated within 30 days.

Any dog or cat within the city of Glendale after the expiration of 30 days after this ordinance takes effect for which no certificate of vaccination has been filed with the city clerk of any dog or cat born or brought into Glendale after this ordinance takes effect for which no certificate of successful vaccination is filed, shall be taken into custody by the chief of police or any police officer designated by him for that purpose, and it shall be destroyed in some humane manner by said chief of police or other police officer.

In addition to having the animal vaccinated the person owning it or having it in charge shall also register such dog or cat with the city clerk and make written application for such registration, in which shall be stated the name, description, sex and breed of such dog or cat. Whenever a dog or cat is picked up by the chief of police or his assistants it will be placed in the city pound. If the owner does not redeem the animal by paying the required license fee it will be killed.

The ordinance as discussed by the city council last night may be passed at next Monday night's meeting. If it is enacted it will go in effect 30 days later. The license fee has not been decided upon, but the advisability of placing the fee at $5 or $7 was discussed at the city council last night.

The proposed ordinance further provides that any person sheltering or harboring a dog or cat for a period of 15 consecutive days shall be considered its rightful owner.

Upon the payment of the license fee the city of Glendale shall cause the animal to be vaccinated with anti-rabic serum as often as may be necessary to obtain a successful vaccination, or to determine that such vaccination cannot be effected. The vaccination herein described shall be repeated on the beginning of each calendar year.

Any person, firm or corporation violating any of the provisions of the proposed ordinance shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor and upon conviction thereof shall be punished by a fine of not more than $500 or by imprisonment in the city jail or the county jail for a period not longer than six months or by both fine and imprisonment.

Children Damage West Doran Building

Damage to the extent of $100 was done to a house at 533 West Doran street, belonging to I. S. Hanger of 237 Ivy street by a number of youngsters who broke in the place Monday. The walls and the woodwork were disfigured to considerable extent.

LITTLE DAUGHTER BORN

Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Dick Sr. of 309 North Louise street, received a wire this morning from their son, Samuel Dick, Jr., of El Centro, announcing the arrival of a daughter this morning, January 30, 1923. Sara Ann Dick is the name which has been chosen for the new arrival.

TRUNK REPORTED STOLEN

A trunk, filled with valuables, was taken from the home of Mrs. Sarah A. Richardson, 131 Sycamore Canyon road, yesterday.

COUNTY AUDITOR'S SCHOOL COST IS DISPROVED

Committee of 11 Shows Error in Figures Before Grand Jury

The figures published by the grand jury some time ago based on figures obtained from the office of the county auditor which represented a tremendously increased cost in the maintenance of the schools of the county have been shown to be entirely unjustified, according to Richardson D. White of this city.

Mr. White was absent Monday evening in attendance on a hearing before the supervisors of Los Angeles county of a committee of eleven appointed by the Los Angeles County Teachers' Institute at its December session to investigate the report of the grand jury based on figures which it was stated were furnished by the county auditor's office. This grand jury report represented an increase in school attendance in the county of Los Angeles during the year 1918-19 of 60 percent and an increase in the cost of maintenance of the Los Angeles county schools during the same period of 600 percent. This the institute members believed was utterly impossible, hence the appointment of the committee of investigation.

The committee's impression that the figures were very misleading and incorrect was absolutely verified in its report, which was read in the presence of County Auditor H. A. Payne.

The report showed, according to a statement contained therein which had been signed by Auditor Payne and Walter K. Mitchell, certified public accountant, that the figure of $58,000,000 used by the grand jury as a basis for the estimate of 600 percent increase in cost, contained over $9,000,000 "in excess of the true estimates." It further contained over $25,000,000, which is to be expended for bonds and interest, buildings and equipment, over $21,000,000 of which is money derived from the sale of bonds and which should have been included in current expenses. Instead it represents capital outlay or investment.

The auditor's latest figures show the estimated amount to be expended for the ordinary maintenance and operation of the schools of Los Angeles county during the current school year is slightly in excess of $23,000,000, instead of the $58,000,000 originally quoted.

Comparing this amount with the expenditures of 1918-19, which were used as a basis by the county auditor and the grand jury, the committee found that the increase in the average daily attendance has been approximately 75 percent, that the county at large and the increase in the cost of maintenance and operation of schools for the same period has been 144 per cent, instead of 600 percent.

The report shows that this difference of 69 percent between the 75 percent and 144 percent is not unreasonable in the light of the increased cost of everything that the schools use together with the increase in the salaries of teachers and other employees made necessary by the increase in the cost of living.

The report is signed by A. R. Clifton, chairman, who is superintendent of schools of Monterey; Walter B. Crane, secretary, who is principal of one of the elementary schools of Los Angeles and president of the California Teachers' Association, Southern Section; O. C. Albertson, principal of the Whittier High School; R. D. White, superintendent of Glendale City Schools; J. F. West, Superintendent of Pasadena City Schools; Horace M. Rebok, Superintendent of Santa Monica schools; Susan M. Dorsey, Superintendent of Los Angeles City schools; C. A. Langworthy, principal of Redondo Union High School; W. L. Stephens, superintendent of Long Beach city schools; G. V. Whaley, superintendent of schools in Pomona; C. E. Seaman, member of the Los Angeles Board of Education.

The action taken by the board of supervisors was to suggest that the committee and Mr. Payne get together and attempt to formulate a statement to be given to the public on which they could agree. The committee met with Mr. Payne Monday afternoon. According to Mr. White it was still in session when he left at 20 minutes to 6 without having reached any agreement.

Mr. White says the committee will probably make a supplementary report to the Board of Supervisors giving the evidence on which it based statements contained in its report which have been challenged by Auditor Payne. This evidence will include a considerable amount of personal testimony.

Mr. White also says whatever action the board of county supervisors may take with reference to the county auditor does not concern the committee. Its principal object has been to reach the public of Los Angeles County with the true facts and figures in the case and to correct misleading impressions which have gone abroad.

PATROLMAN NUNN SEIZES $2,000 WORTH OF LIQUOR AND BOOTLEGGER DRIVER

Eight Cases of High-grade Stuff, Bearing Well-known Liquor Labels, Are Seized by the Police

STANDS OFF RESCUERS ALONE

Policeman Holds Up Truck on Suspicion of Its Freight and Finds It Is Followed by Hooded Auto

Eight cases of liquor, valued at $2000, were captured by Officer Nunn of the Glendale police force at 4:30 o'clock this morning.

The "wet goods" were located in a speed wagon, driven by W. E. King, 6575 Fountain avenue, Los Angeles, according to the police. The arrest was made on Colorado, between Central and Columbus.

Following the arrest, King was kept in the police department under guard, the "booze" was piled in the rear room of the station and the speed wagon was placed in the lot just behind the station. A complaint of illegally transporting liquor was entered against King by Nunn.

The liquor taken was high-grade "stuff." It included three cases, 36 quarts, of Scotch whiskey; two cases, 24 quarts, of Covenish gin; one case, 12 quarts, of Gordon gin, and two cases, 24 quarts, of Old Taylor whiskey.

The truck in which the liquor was found did not carry any license plate. It was practically new and on the windshield was a "license applied for" card.

At about 1 o'clock last night as Officer Nunn went on his beat he noticed a speed wagon proceeding north on San Fernando road. It was closely followed by a large touring car. It occurred to Nunn at that time that possibly it was a "booze outfit."

At about 4:30 o'clock Nunn noticed the same truck and automobile, this time the automobile was leading, proceeding south along San Fernando. He started his own machine and followed the truck along Colorado. When it reached a point between Columbus and Central he drove up beside the machine and ordered the driver to stop.

"What's inside the bus?" inquired Officer Nunn.

"Nothing," replied the driver. "Let's take a look," said Nunn. When the officer lifted the canvas with which the body of the truck was covered, the first thing he saw were the words, "Gordon Gin." That was enough. He ordered the driver from the truck and stood him up against it.

In the meantime the big car had stopped some thirty yards along the street. One of the men in the car alighted. He walked several feet toward the truck and then called out:

"Can you tell me the shortest way to Los Angeles?"

"Go two blocks north," said Nunn.

As he said this, Nunn, thinking the fellow from the machine was about to "begin operations," turned his flashlight on him. The fellow sprang back into the machine and the car hurried down the road. In some way the license plate was pulled toward the car so that the officer was unable to get the number.

About this time Officer Kendrick arrived on the scene and assisted Officer Nunn in taking King and the truck to the police station. The license was registered under the name of M. J. Daly of 5575 Fountain avenue, Los Angeles.

Judge Lowe had not decided this morning whether King would be prosecuted under the Glendale city ordinance or the federal law. Under either procedure the truck may be confiscated. The maximum penalty under the federal law is a fine of $1000 and six months in jail, and under the city ordinance the maximum penalty is a fine of $500 and 6 months in jail. The penalty administered rests entirely with the discretion of the court. The preliminary hearing of King will be held today.

TWENTY JOIN IN COMMUNITY SONG INSTITUTE

The Community Service Song Leaders' Music Institute, being held in the music room of the high school every Monday and Friday night at 7:30 o'clock under the leadership of Alexander Stewart, Pacific Coast music organizer for National Community Service, was attended by twenty volunteer leaders last night. The work taken up at these institute classes is very much worthwhile. Instruction is given by Mr. Stewart in the technique of song leadership. These classes are open to the public free of charge and those who are attending are very enthusiastic over the work.

COUNCIL CONSIDERS CENTER IDEA

Expresses Willingness to Issue Call for Bond Election on Petitions

At its meeting Monday night the Glendale city council signified its willingness to call a bond election during April for the purpose of bringing the sanitarium grounds for civic center purposes, providing the members of that body could be conclusively shown that it is the will of a majority of the residents of Glendale that such an election be called.

The matter of calling such an election was discussed as a result of a letter from the Exchange club asking that the matter be given careful consideration on the part of the council. This club is promoting the idea of the purchase of the site. It is sending a circular letter to the various civic organizations and clubs of the city asking that all organizations support a move of this kind. This move is not meeting with the unqualified endorsement of these organizations.

The council last night did not endorse the proposition, but simply stated that the election would be called if the people in general so desired.

DELTA KAPPA NU MMETS AT HOME OF SECRETARY

The regular monthly business meeting of the Glendale Delta Kappa Nu Fraternity was held Monday night at the home of the secretary, Sabin Buck, 606 North Maryland avenue. The fraternity members present were in full Dragon uniforms. It was recommended by the executive committee that the resignation of the treasurer be accepted with regrets. The new Fraternity constitution, printed on gold paper with red binding and a gold Dragon embossed on the folder, was received and copies accepted with pleasure by Earl P. Hammond, president; Gall R. Kennedy, vice-president; Sabin Buck, secretary; Orrin Barnes, treasurer; Joe Maier, LeRoy Mason and Edward Smith, executive committee. After the business session a Dragon special lunch was served by the secretary.

COMMANDERY DEGREE

Following the regular dinner of the Glendale Commandery at Masonic Temple Monday night the Order of the Temple was conferred on a candidate, Dr. R. V. Housie was in charge of the meeting. The officers and members of the local Commandery are planning to go to Los Angeles on February 15 to take part in a contest in competition with other Commanderies of Southern California.

MOTORMETER STOLEN

A motometer was stolen from the machine of Gregg Wilbur as it was standing before his home at 312 West Cypress street, last night, according to a report turned into the Glendale police department by Mr. Wilbur.

GLENDALE MUSIC CLUB BIRTHDAY GIFTS ASKED

The Tokens Are Only New Memberships; No Drive to Be Held

The Glendale Music club, as has been announced, is celebrating its birthday February 16, and has asked for birthday presents in the way of new members. No teams have been appointed for a membership drive, but the club expects every member to do his or her duty and as an evidence of appreciation, the member who brings in the largest group of new members in excess of five will receive a silver trophy. February 16 will be a sort of party night and family affair. Only club members will be admitted. It will be for them an extra treat for which the season tickets made no provision, but members will be expected to show their season tickets at the door and will not be permitted to bring guests.

In order that the club may expand its activities another year, this membership campaign is being put on.

At the concert tomorrow night, only holders for the second half of the season will be admitted and only the guest coupons for the second half can be used. Besides the group of Bohemian folk songs by Madame Spotted, she will also sing several American compositions.

Miss Gertrude Knox of Providence, Rhode Island, who has been a guest of Miss Bradley of 720 North Louise street, will leave Wednesday for Berkeley, where she will take charge of teaching history of arts at the private school conducted there by Misses Ransom and Bridges.

IDENTIFICATION DEPARTMENT EDITOR

MRS. MARY C. BEAUCHAMP
1214 South Glendale Avenue
Phone 1287J between 10 a. m. and noon. Noon: Monday, Tuesday and Thursday.
Names and addresses of those seeking friends in Glendale, Burbank, Eagle Rock or vicinity, will be published in Saturday's issue.

BETRY AND GRAY BUILDING NEAR COMPLETION

East side residents are much gratified over the near completion of the fine concrete garage and store building at the southeast corner of Colorado and Everett street by the firm of Betry & Gray, composed of Owen C. Betry and Elmer M. Gray, who will occupy it for their general garage and repair business and lease the store rooms. They are comparatively newcomers in our city, but have bought residence property here and have become ardent Glendale boosters.

When asked how they came to select Glendale instead of some other suburb of Los Angeles, Mr. Gray said: "Mrs. Gray and I had motored a great deal through the outlying country for our own pleasure and to entertain guests and always found ourselves looking toward the Verdugo Hills. In passing through Glendale we could not help but admire the city and the indications of its fine class of people, neither ultra fashionable nor ultra rich, but good, substantial folks. Mrs. Gray was considerably taken with Eagle Rock, but I felt Glendale had not only beauty but excellent opportunities for business. I won her over and now she is more than glad that we decided on Glendale. We had confidence enough in the city to invest our money in the garage building and are now competent to serve the public."

Every shadow in life is evidence of a sun somewhere.

SCOUT COUNCIL TO MEET THIS EVENING

President A. R. Eastman Calls Members to Chicken Dinner

The first meeting of the newly elected members of the Verdugo Hills district council, Boy Scouts of America, will be held this evening in the Citizens' building, at the call of A. R. Eastman, the president. The meeting will be preceded by a chicken dinner at 6:30 which will be served by the Glen Inn.

The Boy Scouts' orchestra headed by Dallas Kalbaugh, will play during the course of the dinner. Visitors and guests will be welcomed by H. Trask, Scout executive Pasadena district council, B. S. A., and D. W. Pollard, national field representative of the Boy Scouts of America.

Dr. E. H. Parker, chairman of the financial campaign which will be launched February 13, will also be present at the council meeting to-night as will Col. James W. Everington.

Mr. Eastman is in hopes that most of the following men who comprise the new council will be present: Frank C. Ayars, A. L. Baird, George H. Bentley, Rev. Charles M. Calderwood, Chas. L. Chandler, Lyman P. Clark, A. T. Cowan, A. R. Eastman, Owen C. Emery, Col. James W. Everington, A. L. Ferguson, Peter L. Ferry, David L. Gregg, Charles B. Guthrie, William Howe, William Hunter, J. G. Huntley, D. Ripley Jackson, Matison B. Jones, George B. Kary, Kelly, Roy L. Kent, A. R. Kilgore, C. E. Kimlin, James F. McBryde, George O. Moyle, Dr. E. H. Parker, Walter H. Packard, Spencer Robinson, Nathan Rigdon, Jesse E. Smith, Cameron D. Thom, Chas. H. Toll, Capt. Wm. C. Wattles, Thomas D. Watson, John Robert White, Richardson D. White, Lloyd H. Wilson, W. A. Blanchard, Robert W. Colburn, Leonard F. Collins, James C. Crawford, Judge A. A. Crawford, Dr. A. E. W. Yale, Gavin W. Craig, Dr. Harry B. Crawford, P. H. Ducker, C. L. Suits, Emil F. Swanson, E. E. Harwood, M. V. Hartranft, Leo L. Lang, John S. McGroarty.

Scout Executive Harold Benner will tell of plans he has for the development and promotion of the local Scout movement during the ensuing year.

BARD SECTION MEETING SUCCESS

Despite the rainy weather, the card party given Monday afternoon by the members of the Shakespeare section of the Tuesday Afternoon club at the chamber of commerce auditorium proved to be very successful. About $50 was cleared. Prizes for bridge were awarded to Mrs. Heloise Bondeaux, Mrs. F. Bernower of Los Angeles, Mrs. J. I. Wernette and Mrs. Waldo Richardson. For "500," prizes were awarded to Mrs. S. H. Waller, Mrs. W. F. Nash, Sr., and Mrs. E. W. Kingsley.

After cards a social hour was enjoyed and refreshments served. The members of the section of which Mrs. Walter Jones is curator, had planned to hold the card party at the Broadway inn, but as that place of business has been closed the chamber of commerce offered the use of its auditorium, which was very much appreciated.

DEER POACHERS FINED

A. P. Geerdts and D. A. Barack of Harmon Court, Oakland, Calif., were recently arrested by officers of the United States Forest Service and fined $25 each by Judge de Ferrari of Groveland for shooting at and wounding deer out of season near South Fork in the Stanislaus forest. The men were charged with shooting a fawn four times with two different caliber guns.

A wise man never guesses that a woman is over forty years old—in her presence.

BOY SCOUTS OF VERDUGO HILLS ENJOYING THE HOSPITALITY OF FIRE CHIEF LANKFORD OF GLENDALE

PURELY PERSONAL

Mrs. Powell of Reedley, Calif., was the weekend guest of Mrs. Frank Brown, 220 South Orange street.

Gen. Goethals Will Be N. Y. Fuel Chief

General George W. Goethals, builder of the Panama canal and chief of supplies in the U. S. army during the World war, has been named by Governor Alfred E. Smith to be head of the New York state fuel commission in the emergency caused by the coal shortage. He will have full power, at a salary of $2500 a month.

NEIGHBORS TAKE LEAVE OF LATE MRS. HOSACK

Funeral services of Mrs. Alexander B. Hosack were held yesterday afternoon, January 29th, at the family residence, 703 East Harvard street.

Rev. W. E. Edmonds, her pastor, conducted the services; Rev. Louis Tinning read the 90th Psalm. Mrs. C. M. Retts and Miss Elizabeth Mottem rendered in a touching manner "One Sweetly Solemn Thought" as a duet. Mr. Edmonds made a very eloquent address touching on the beauty of her life and character, on her steadfast faith in the Lord Jesus, on her patience and her love to others. Mr. Tinning prayed very touchingly for the surviving members of her family, especially for those absent in the east. Mrs. Retts sang again, a solo, "Sun of My Soul."

The flowers, very numerous and very beautiful, were banded and around the casket, bearing evidence of the generous love of neighbors and friends.

The pallbearers were: Dr. F. M. Collier, R. P. Isitt, J. J. Davis, R. A. Peterson, C. S. Stuart and H. McC. Goodwin.

The services were concluded at Forest Lawn cemetery.

CHAS. H. RANDALL TO ESTABLISH MODEL SUBURBAN CITY

Turning from politics to community building, former Congressman Charles H. Randall is reported to be at the head of a move to create a new and model suburban city in Los Angeles county. He has purchased a 2400-acre ranch in the Castaic river valley, bordering the Ridge Route, 39 miles from Los Angeles. It is said that the entire tract will be sold exclusively in five-acre farms to actual settlers instead of speculators. This section is admirably adapted to poultry raising, grape culture and deciduous fruits, and as electricity, natural gas, telephone service and abundance of free water are all at hand, the new city of Castaic gives promise of rapid growth.

M'KINLEY DAY MEETING HELD

The "McKinley Day" meeting of the Nimble Finger club was held yesterday at the home of Mrs. Agnes Richardson, 212 East California avenue. The special work for the afternoon was on blocks for quilts. Topics in connection with McKinley's life had been assigned to the members previous to the meeting and during the afternoon short talks were given on the same which proved quite interesting. Mrs. Pearl Moore sang one of McKinley's favorite songs, "Lead Kindly Light."

Those present were Miss Flo Chadwick, Miss Ruth Paugh, Mrs. Tom Gillett, Mrs. Kulp, Mrs. Geo. Peck, Mrs. Charles Stuart, Mrs. Fred Paugh, Mrs. E. B. Moore, Mrs. Joe Griffin and sons, Jim, Jack and Dan, and the hostess. Refreshments were served.

"When You Buy Advertising, You Buy Circulation" Tailor-Made Advertising

One great fact must be remembered by those who have made the decision to advertise. The advertising plan must fit the business to which it is applied. There are no ready-to-wear advertising plans; each one must be tailor made.

The purpose of advertising is to increase business and not to relieve any one of his arduous duties. The manufacturer's salesman who regards advertising as a substitute for his own efforts has missed the point. His efforts are needed more than ever to support the advertising and put it across. His reward is larger sales.

Likewise, the merchant who chooses the advertised brands because they are "soft and easy" selling, has overlooked the essential idea. Certainly they sell easier; but this is not the big important truth. Rather, he should see that the manufacturer's advertising is an instrument put into his hands for increasing his volume and speeding up his turnover. Looking at the matter in this light, he will bend every effort to cooperate with the advertising and seek to make it pay him additional profits.

Advertising is not a form of perpetual motion that goes on forever without human assistance. The biggest problem any man has to settle after he has determined to advertise, and decided how to advertise, is this: How can I use my advertising so as to get the most out of it? Without close-linked cooperation it dissipates its force into air.

It must be hitched on to a business properly. Then it must be utilized with intelligence. When these conditions are fulfilled it does a type of work for which there is no efficient substitute.

COMMUNITY MUSIC INSTITUTE MAKES CHURCH SINGERS

A. L. Baird, Chairman of Committee, Announces the Main Objective

A. L. Baird, chairman of the music committee of Glendale Community Service, has announced that one of the chief purposes of the community music institute being conducted in Glendale by Alexander Stewart of National Community Service is to train leaders for church singing in the churches. It is expected that these leaders will volunteer their services to the community in general along community singing lines. Mr. Baird states that already a limited number of these leaders who have had previous experience in song directing are available for this service and may be secured without charge by various organizations upon application to the Glendale Community Service office.

"Churches are increasingly recognizing the value of community music as an aid in their services," declares Alexander Stewart, who is here for a short period at the invitation of Community Service. Mr. Stewart is a representative of the National Community Service, Inc., the nation-wide leisure-time program of which is now being developed in Glendale under the leadership of a prominent group of citizens, of which V. M. Hollister is president and A. L. Baird, chairman of the music committee.

"My experience in various cities," states Mr. Stewart, "has shown that clergymen and other church workers are making the most of a lesson that has been learned from the war time singing, which did much to build up morale. Many churches are now utilizing community singing either as a part of their regular services, or in special recreational gatherings.

"It has been found in numerous instances that the addition of community singing to a church service has been doubly beneficial. In the first place, it has increased by many degrees the attendance at the services, especially on Sunday evenings. Secondly, the community singing has had a direct influence upon the congregational singing. In cases where the congregation has been habitually leaving the singing to its choir, the introduction of community singing within the church service is used to create the singing spirit and to make those in attendance realize the great spiritual benefits that come from their participation in the songs of praise.

"The churches have discovered that a stirring community sing may be planned in a church in which a program exclusively made up of hymns will be used.

"In addition to singing the traditional hymns with a new fervor born of the community singing spirit, it has been found inspiring to adopt some responsive effects in which both the choir and congregation join."

Mr. Stewart gives instances of the way in which community singing is being used to attract people to churches in one eastern city. One church has a social gathering in its church house immediately following the afternoon service. This gathering is planned to attract the young people in the congregation and strangers in the city. Community singing is the chief magnet of the gatherings, and it has been the means of holding the interest of the young people in a way that the church has never before been able to do. Another uses community singing to draw people to its Sunday night service, where the attendance has been low. After a symbolic service, the congregation moves into the church house for an hour of community singing with special folk song features. The result has been a constantly increasing attendance.

Upon the invitation of churches in various parts of the country, the Community Service musical organizers have given demonstrations of means that may be taken to improve congregational singing. In some cases it has been found that what was needed was an actual leader for the singing in addition to the interest of the congregation in the hymn singing was stimulated by verbal analyses of the hymns as to their history and meaning. The most general stumbling block that has been found has been the high pitch of the different hymns, which were written in keys so high that the men could not sing them. This was remedied by having such hymns transposed to suitable keys for general mass singing.

"Another great aid that community singing has given to the churches," added Mr. Stewart, "has been the training of special leaders for Sunday school singing. At most all of the schools for volunteer song leaders conducted by Community Service have had in their enrollment a number of leaders of Sunday school singing who find that the routine of time beating as used for community singing was most helpful to them in stirring up the young people in the Sunday school and causing them to enter whole heartedly into the singing."

GLENDAL PIANIST BRILLIANT MUSIC WHO PLAYS ON L. A. ARRANGED FOR BY MRS. CLEOPHAS

To Open Home to Concert for Benefit of Literary Section's Fund

A most interesting musical program has been arranged for Thursday night, February 1, at 8 o'clock at the home of Mrs. Ed Cleophas, 337 North Central avenue, the proceeds from which will go towards the literary section's "Furnishings fund" for the new Tuesday Afternoon Clubhouse. The artists who will take part, all of whom are donating their services free of charge, include: Miss Gertrude Cleophas, pianiste; Mme. Teodora Wisniewska, coloratura soprano, who is being accompanied by many as the American Gull-Cured; Ella Faggoli, a brilliant tenor; Phyllis Ferguson of Chicago, and Modina De Lorenzo, pianist.

Arrangements are being made to seat about 125 guests, according to Mrs. Cleophas, who states that the sale of tickets is meeting with a splendid response.

The program which has been arranged will include the following numbers:

I. "Waltz" from "Romeo and Juliette" (Gounod)
"Romance" (Teresa Del Riego)
By Mme. Teodora Wisniewska, who will be accompanied at the piano by the renowned prima donna and teacher, Mme. Felicia Romanowska, who is now reading in Glendale at 405 West Windsor road.

Piano solos:
"Ballade," Op. 47 (Chopin)
"Etude," Op. 25, No. 3 (Chopin)
"The Lake at Evening" (Grieg)
"Tales from the Vienna Woods" (Strauss Schuetz)
By Miss Gertrude Cleophas

Tenor solos:
"Il Libro Santo," The Sacred Book (Donizetti)
By Ella Faggoli, who will be accompanied at the piano by his accomplished wife, Mrs. Bertha Faggoli.

Story poems, with original musical settings, by Phyllis Ferguson of Chicago, who is spending the winter in California.

Salome's air, "Herodiade" (Massenet)
By Mme. Teodora Wisniewska

Piano duet:
"Concerto, A Minor" (Grieg)
By Miss Gertrude Cleophas, with Modina De Lorenzo at the second piano.

"Look Not Upon Me" (Bartlett)
"Songs My Mother Taught Me" (Dvorak)
By Ella Faggoli

MRS. E. E. HAMLIN ENTERTAINS IN NEW HOME

On Saturday afternoon, January 27, Mrs. E. D. Hamlin entertained a number of guests at her new home, 528 N. Central avenue, with a surprise shower in honor of Mrs. W. C. McWhinney of Los Angeles. The house was prettily decorated in pink and blue, the floral decorations being pink carnations, sweet peas, and blue corn flowers. The guests carried out an original idea of the hostess by embroidering their names in a gift article for the guest of honor.

Mrs. Kate Thimman, accompanied by Mrs. J. P. Gasser, sang several beautiful selections including "Dawn" and "At Dawning." Delightful refreshments were served, consisting of lobster salad, ice cream, cake and coffee.

The guests included: Mrs. McWhinney of Los Angeles, Mrs. G. R. Granby and Miss Granby of Naples, N. Y.; and Mesdames P. C. Brown, J. W. McCoy, Joe Cave, M. S. Judd, J. P. Gasser, Kate Thimman, J. B. LaRock, D. W. Hepburn, H. N. Landon, Alfred Gafford, Eckert, Loretz, W. F. Burton, M. H. Bouton, all of Glendale.

Mrs. Hamlin was assisted by Mrs. Hepburn, Mrs. Landon, Mrs. Bouton and Mrs. Judd.

BOYD TO ENTERTAIN BOYS OF HIS HI GROUP

MILDRED FORESYTH MAKES DEBUT IN PIANO RECITAL

On Saturday afternoon, Miss Mildred Forsyth, daughter of A. L. Forsyth, was presented in piano recital by her teacher, Miss Lois Price, at the home of her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. J. N. Humbert, 1729 South Gardens avenue. After the recital, beautiful musical numbers were rendered by the Misses Price, Margaret Hughes, Dorothy Oldham and Barbara Forsyth.

Miss Elsie Whitney gave several delightful readings.

A pleasing feature of the occasion was the unexpected arrival of the two uncles of Miss Mildred, Messrs. Lou and Cecil Forsyth of Hobart, Okla.

At the close of the afternoon, ice cream and cake were served by Mrs. Humbert, assisted by her daughter, Marjorie and Elsie Whitney.

Those present were Mrs. Charles Whitney, Mrs. William Watkins, Mr. and Mrs. W. F. Stahl, Misses Price, E. Anderson, Elsie Whitney, Margaret Hughes, Dorothy Oldham, Barbara Forsyth, Marjorie Humbert, Mildred Forsyth and Colmer Jones, and Messrs. A. L. Forsyth, L. H. Forsyth, Cecil Forsyth, Mr. and Mrs. J. Truths in Epigram

Fame is no plant that grows on mortal soil.—Milton.

Contempt of fame begets contempt of virtue.—Jonson.

What a heavy burden is a name that has become too famous.—Voltaire.

A truth looks freshest in the fashion of the day.—Tennyson.

DESPOILING THE GRAVE

Much curiosity has been aroused by the tales told of the grave of Pharaoh Tutankhamun in Egypt. Doubtless much will be learned from inspection of the interior of the sepulchre. Much already has been revealed by approach to the resting place of the once mighty king. It is probable that more is to be ascertained concerning the people and customs of thousands of years ago. This will add to the total of human knowledge, which even in the abstract, is recognized as having a value. Research in quest of it in concrete form is pried with scientific ardor.

Inquisitive folk of the present age think lightly, or not at all, of the sacredness with which an ancient grave had been regarded by those who prepared it and laid their friend or ruler in it. The grave-robbing always has been looked upon with peculiar indignation when its purpose was financial gain. But he need not fear any disapproval, or be troubled in his conscience, if he will but select an old, old grave, and be inspired by the wish to learn.

The Egyptians contend that the body of the pharaoh should not be removed, and in this it is easy to uphold them. Tutankhamun, once a monarch of splendor and power, as a museum exhibit, does not seem either necessary or tolerable. It is true enough that Caesar's dust may stop a chink, as everybody is aware, but not had it been recognized as Caesar's.

Just how much shall be remembered of George Washington three thousand years hence, there is no way of conjecturing. Perhaps nothing. It may be that at the end of that period, a new race wholly uninformed touching the American revolution shall, scrambling over the bones of the great general. However, if then there still remain an American tradition, and survivors who cherish it, they would be likely to feel concerning Washington's right to be undisturbed, as the Egyptians feel now about Tutankhamun.

PERILOUS PUPPY LOVE

Last June a young couple eloped from Los Angeles to Santa Ana. The bride was then eighteen. The husband had not yet reached that sedate age of discretion. He has brought suit for annulment of the marriage. Probably the marriage ought to be annulled. Puppy love, ordinarily something at which to smile, may be a perilous emotion. When it leads a pair of brats into matrimony it certainly has wrought disaster. There is no reason apparent why such episodes should be permitted to clog the orderly processes of society, or to clutter the courts with their aftermath.

In order to get the necessary license the lad had sworn that he was twenty-one. Allowing him to carry out a pretense that must have been evident, was official laxness certainly worthy of rebuke. Probably nothing can be done about it. If men in authority will issue marriage licenses to children, and magistrates may be found willing to perform the ceremony, the recreant adults can plead that they had been misled. But the boy knew what he was about. He made a false statement and swore to its truth. Surely that is an offense that comes within the power of the state to penalize.

If punishment were to be visited upon a few of the puppy love type, it is possible that the effect upon silly boys and girls would be salutary. The suggestion is offered that the experiment be tried in this case, or some of the many similar ones.

Wise folk are studying the dual problem of marriage and divorce. They hardly will miss the conclusion that one grave trouble lies in the marriage of the mentally and physically immature. Up at Fresno, an example of another outcome of such a marriage, Mrs. June Carr killed herself the other day, at the age of seventeen. She—a girl who should have been in school—left a baby several months of age!

It is strange if such marital follies cannot be stopped.

IMPRESSIVE FIGURES

Building statistics for 1922 certainly sustain and emphasize the right of southern California to be regarded as the financial white spot, a term now quite familiar. In gauging the relative progress of communities, there hardly could be a more accurate measure than the volume of construction.

Among the cities of the United States, Los Angeles stood third in expenditures for building. Many of the structures were homes, and yet the demand for houses is far from being adequately met. There is no indication of any pause in this respect. Indeed, the theory upon which builders are acting, is that the record is to be bettered in 1923.

New York city leads, of course. Chicago comes second. Then follows Los Angeles, a large gap between it and the Chicago total, but one that leaves it far in advance of Philadelphia, fourth in the list. To excel such cities as Detroit, Cleveland, Boston and Baltimore, in volume of building, is no mean triumph. That Los Angeles did this is of vital interest to this end of the state, for in the prosperity thus heralded to the world, the entire section shares abundantly, as its many lively cities attest.

San Francisco also did well, its total being $45,327,206. That of Los Angeles was $121,206,787. The northern metropolis earned ninth rank.

Pretty good for California, great state, the wonders and possibilities of which are just beginning to be realized.

Every man has an idea that others think him important.

LACK OF STABILITY

Residents of the Pacific coast have been glad to realize that attention is being paid by the naval establishment to the necessity, and the logical right of this edge of the continent to be the base of the chief defensive force. In the plans, as these have been approved from time to time, San Pedro had been regarded as the natural site for a submarine base. So certain were the people of Los Angeles that this matter had been finally settled, that they made extremely liberal concessions to the navy. The port authorities permitted free use of such facilities as would have cost the government vast sums to provide. The city actually donated for the submarine base a tract of land of immense value. Now they receive the information that the submarine activities are going to San Diego. Neither is there in the report anything suggesting that the presence of the battleship fleet at San Pedro is to be permanent.

Various protests have been sent to Secretary Denby. Apparently they have had no effect. His mind seems to be made up. There is reason for displeasure in contemplation of this for other than commercial considerations. Former secretaries have had great schemes of betterment. If such schemes lack the element of stability, the creation of new ones takes on the aspect of a form of official amusement. The next secretary of the navy may upset the Denby project as easily as Denby has upset those he found awaiting development.

IN SEARCH OF ATMOSPHERE

By DR. FRANK CRANE

The other day an eighteen-year-old girl student at Columbia University disappeared mysteriously and was not found for three days. She was eventually discovered by her relatives and a detective living under an assumed name in the lower part of the city.

The explanation she gave of her escapade was that she left the college and her student boarding place because she found there no dramatic atmosphere. It was in search of atmosphere that she took her foot in her hand and started out into the world to write plays and stories and poetry.

She had only $9.50 at the beginning of her adventure and about one cent at the end.

She did not find much except discomfort in her excursion. She said, describing her search for lodgings, "They showed me a room for $5 without gas, and as I knew I could not do any writing there without light I took the only other room vacant, which was $6.50. My, but it was cold there! The next time I go away I am going to have plenty of money. The bed was like a pile of hay and the light was poor—and, oh, so cold!"

"And I had only one good meal while I was away. The only other thing I had to eat was a bite of lunch which took all but one cent of my fortune. I am not really sorry to be back again. It is warm here and nice and there is plenty of food and all that, but there is no atmosphere."

What this young lady and thousands of others like her need to know is that there is no atmosphere anywhere except in one place, and that is the imagination.

The most common mistake all would-be writers make is that they could write interestingly if they only had interesting adventures. The fact is that those who lead the most adventurous and exciting lives as a rule do not and cannot write at all.

The material for good writing is found in a lively imagination and not by travel. Those who write the bloodcurdling detective and mystery stories probably lead very humdrum lives and their only excursions into mystery are solving and playing chess.

Some of the most interesting books on bringing up children are written by old maids who never had any.

Some of the most readable advice on finance and investment is prepared by gentlemen who cannot make over sixty dollars a week, and do not say that.

Some of the most inspiring sermons are preached by men whose days' doings are anything but inspiring.

Creative ability simply means a creative imagination, and the power to tell a thing well has nothing to do with the power to do it well.

I am a writer myself and I could probably write a better essay shoeing horses than any blacksmith in the state, but if I undertook to shoe a horse I would probably be kicked to death in a few minutes.

QUERIES

Everybody . . . Their (or His)?
E. P. Ottawa, Canada: "Would you kindly explain which of the following is correct: 'Everybody is trying to do his share' or 'Everybody is trying to do their share'? Some grammars contend the use of 'their' with 'everybody' or 'every one' is correct; others state this is incorrect. Also, is there any distinction between 'among' and 'amongst'?"

Answer: Unquestionably, best usage decidedly favors and endorses the use of his (not their) with everybody and every one. Among and amongst are interchangeable.

"Mr. Jones and Me" Sentence Again
Dr. Joseph Sill, Pasadena, California, has written "The Right Word" that he thinks the sentence "It will be better for Mr. Jones and me to talk this thing over" to be "poorly constructed because it is ambiguous. Does it mean 'It will be better for Mr. Jones and me if we talk this thing over,' or does it mean 'It will be better if Mr. Jones and I talk this thing over'?"

Billiards Is (or Are)?
Charles J. Shevlin, New York City: "Will you kindly inform us which of these two sentences are correct: Billiards is a nice game; Billiards are a nice game?"

Answer: The right word is the verb is; as, Billiards is a nice game. The subject is singular. Just the name of a game. "The Right Word" calls your attention to an error in your query. The following is correct: which of these two sentences is (not are) correct.

"Wouldn't" and "We Will Have to Watch"

C. M. Gibbons of Spokane, Washington, some time ago mailed "The Right Word" a sheet from a national magazine. A number of the errors that the sender checked have been published in a previous article.

1. "Of course we received his letter or we wouldn't be answering it."

2. " . . . it is so badly misused ordinarily that we will have to watch ourselves when we do use it."

(Note: The right word is shall, not will.)

THE LISTENING POST

By James W. Foley

"Good enough!"

That is what the slack workman says sometimes.

It is a kind of trademark of the shiftless.

"Good enough."

It will do!

It will "get by."

It will pass an uncritical inspection.

It is not first class.

It is not an excellent piece of workmanship.

It is not up to the standard of good workmanship.

But it will do for the time being.

It is "good enough."

Meaning it is not good.

Just good enough.

JAMES W. FOLEY

Good enough for what?

Not for praise, for it does not deserve that.

Not for an emergency, because it would probably fail in that.

Not for the reputation of the workman or the shop, for it would not sustain that.

So when it is good enough, what is it good enough for?

The cement to lay in the building wall.

It is not good.

It will not harden into a firm and immovable mass.

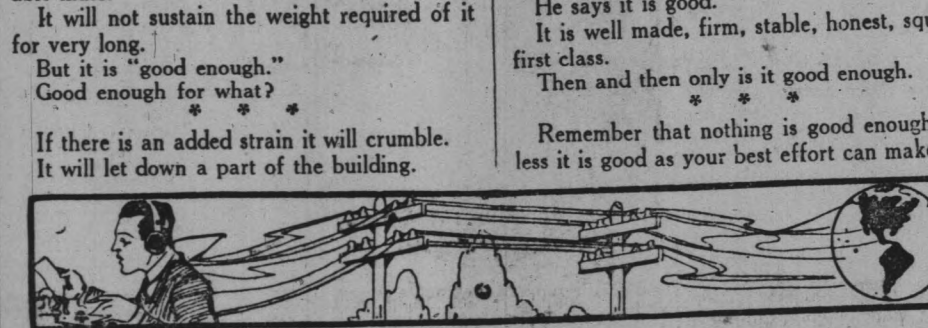

It will not sustain the weight required of it for very long.

But it is "good enough."

Good enough for what?

If there is an added strain it will crumble.

It will let down a part of the building.

Songs of the Poets

On the Sea—By John Keats (1795-1821)

It keeps eternal whisperings around

Desolate shores, and with its mighty swell

Gluts twice ten thousand caverns, till the spell

Of Hecate leaves them their old shadowy sound

Often 'tis in such gentle temper found

That scarcely will the very smallest shell

Be moved for days from whence it sometimes fell.

When last the winds of heaven were unbound.

Oh ye! who have your eye-balls vexed and tired.

Feast them upon the wideness of the Sea;

Oh ye! whose ears are dinned with uproar rude,

Or fed too much with cloying melody—

Sit ye near some old cavern's mouth, and brood

Until ye start, as if the sea-nymphs quired.

THE ALIMONY AGE

By ESTELLE LAWTON LINDSEY

To my way of thinking, alimony is the most detestable word in the English language.

That is because of the abuse of the alimony privilege.

It is now practically impossible to pick up a publication of any kind without having the detested word hit you in the eye.

Before me are half a dozen newspaper clippings from as many papers. Each discusses alimony in some of its phases.

Alimony is the one sure road whereby a lazy, designing woman may lift a fortune out of a man by the simple process of serving him for a few days in the capacity of wife.

She is just as likely to secure a fortune as is the cast-off mother of ten children who has given all her years to helping her husband build up a place and power which he later decides to hand over to a younger woman. The younger and prettier a divorcee the more likely is she to mult tary of the New York City Committee of the National Woman's Party steps forth with a sensible suggestion, which is both reasonable and humane: let women of means who divorce cripples pay them alimony.

Hurrah! That keeps them off the public charity roll; besides it's socially sound.

Of course, a woman who has spent the best years of her life in service to her home deserves pay when she is driven out of it by her husband's infatuation for another woman.

Why not do away with alimony and institute damages? When a marriage is broken make the guilty party pay for the years and the health that have been sacrificed to the partnership and send the home breaker to the penitentiary.

Home breaking is now almost as safe as murder in the United States of America and that's mighty safe.

However, the national organizer and executive secretary of the New York City Committee of the National Woman's Party steps forth with a sensible suggestion, which is both reasonable and humane: let women of means who divorce cripples pay them alimony.

COMMENT ON DAY'S NEWS

By HENRY JAMES

The minister who remarked in an address at Ontario, "any man with a family of less than four children is cheating God" doubtless was sincere. The hypotheses he puts forth would be hard to sustain. This particular one, as well as others, if accepted at all, must be accepted on faith; and there are those lacking in faith.

"Every boy," continued the speaker, "has the right to have at least one brother and two sisters, and likewise every girl has the right to have one sister and two brothers."

Without the desire to dispute, nor with intent to throw any monkey wrenches, one might ask the source of the rights mentioned. On what authority they are transmitted to human beings as though inscribed somewhere in a book of statutes.

If a man having less than four children is, as affirmed, cheating God, who is being cheated when he has the four, or fathers a veritable brood, and is unable to give adequate support and training even to one.

Many childless couples want children. Many with a single child long for at least one more. They are not trying to cheat.

Determination of the sex in advance has been sought, but the method never discovered. Therefore the parents of four are obliged to accept them sexed as they come. The equal division in the family the speaker deems ideal, would result from unconscious operation of laws concerning which there is no knowledge. It might be ascribed to chance, or hailed as the answer to prayer, according to the parental attitude of mind.

Were there two bright boys and two bright girls in a family, the father and mother would be likely to regard the total as ideal. Very well. The family next door might have a mixed dozen and be satisfied, and across the street the family with a solitary child be grateful at a limit so small.

Long Beach is considering a license system that is enough to give proprietors of department stores a jolt. Drug stores, as a certain type of department stores are now termed, would have to procure licenses by the bale. The plan is to exact, in place of one license, a separate license for each department. No discount is suggested when the licenses have to be bought by the bundle.

A tolerably safe guess is that the measure will not get through. Long Beach is a business place, and the least of its desires would be to drive business out, and become some other kind of a place.

It may be that there are healthy persons among those everlastingly talking about food values, and telling what may be eaten with safety, and what not eaten. If such an individual exists, and has financial ambitions, he could make a fortune by hiring a band and putting himself on display.

However, the fact is to be remembered that no prescriber of diet and editor of the menu, ever follows his own counsel. When an ardent advocate of vegetarianism is discovered almost smothered in a smothered steak, the spectacle is not surprising.

It would be useless to cite a thousandth part of the inconsistencies of the advice hurled at the public. No extreme, no matter how absurd, is long unmatched by its exact opposite. Eat meat and grow strong is followed by assurance that to eat it is to die. Same as to bread. Same as to anything deemed edible of which you ever heard. The same, and a little more so, touching the subject of water.

ART AND ECONOMY IN HOME BUILDING

Design Submitted by the National Builders' Bureau

NOW AND THEN

What a difference between the modern, convenient home, like pictured above, and the old cliff dwellings of open caves, hacked out of solid rock by men who lived in the centuries behind us.

What man or woman wouldn't be proud of this tile roofed, combination stucco and brick home?

Big rooms, easy to decorate, laid out in a compact way without loss of space.

Either of the two floor plans, one a trifle larger than the other—but quite different, would make a mighty comfortable place to live.

To satisfy yourself as to the possibilities of owning such a home—and terms, talk to a builder or architect.

'LOVE GAMBLER' AND 'DR. JACK' WINS PATIENTS AT THE GLENDALE

John Gilbert, the Fox star, adds new laurels in his latest vehicle, "The Love Gambler," which was shown at the Glendale theater last evening to a delighted audience.

Mr. Gilbert in the role of a breezy Westerner, who tames women as nonchalantly as he tames horses, is something new, but he proved himself fully equal to the demands of the occasion.

"The Love Gambler" is the story of a breezy young coming from nowhere and bound on the wind for the same place, to quote from one of the titles. He rides into a Western town one day, and gets into a scrap in ten minutes. He knocks down a man, but there is a girl who is not vanquished so easily. Before she leaves the battle, she leaves the imprint of her hand on Manners' (Gilbert's) cheek.

In addition there will be a Fred Niblo preview, "The Famous Mrs. Fair."

SHRINE CLUB TO STAGE 'SMILE AGAIN'

At the T. D. & L. Theater on Feb. 8, Afternoon and Evening

Much interest is being manifested in the entertainment to be given Thursday afternoon and evening, February 8, when "Smile Again," a new musical comedy, written by Miss Hazel Madelin Lindoft of Hollywood, will be put on under the auspices of the Shrine Club of Glendale at the T. D. & L. theater. Miss Lindoft, who has written music and prologues for several of the large theaters in Los Angeles, will personally direct the production. It is said that "Smile Again" has snappy songs, gorgeous costumes and beautiful chorus girls. A crowded house is anticipated. Arrangements have been made for reserved seat tickets which can be secured at the box office of the T. D. & L. theater daily and may be exchanged for the Shrine tickets now on sale.

ROBERT ROWLEY IS HONORED AT UNIVERSITY

Robert Rowley, who is a student in the University of Southern California and the son of Mr. and Mrs. L. T. Rowley of this city, is one of 17 recently elected to the "Skull and Dagger," the honorary fraternity of the school to which only those who have been leaders in school activities are eligible. As recorded in the "Trojan" of January 26, they were presented with the ribbon of the school and the dagger last Thursday morning. As the article states: "Membership in this organization is counted one of the highest honors which can be conferred on a U. S. C. student. It comes as a recognition of special noteworthy service for the student body and for the university. At present there are only eight

THE ADVISERS

The banker says save it,
Don't spend it or waste,
We sorrow at leisure
For spending with haste.
For if we save coppers,
The brown little elves,
We find that the dollars
Take care of themselves.

The papers are writing
The gospel of thrift,
And teachers indicting
The foes of uplift:
With words never ending
They picture and tell
The evils of spending
And do it right well.

The merchant says spend them,
My dollars and dimes,
The dull times, let's end them,
Cash spent makes good times.
Don't hoard and don't holler,
Don't squeeze what I've got,
My quickly spent dollar
Will help a whole lot.

The banker says end it,
This riot of waste,
The merchant says spend it,
And spend it with haste.
Now whose is the blunder,
I ask it of you?
I just sit and wonder
What I ought to do.
